THE BAD AND WORTHLESS

are never isolated or unrepresented. This is especially true of the bad and worthless, who are professedly the only individuals in the highest values. As soon as it has been tested and proved by the world that Hop Bitters was the best, best, and most valuable family medicine on earth many families sprung up and began to use the nostrum in which they prided themselves. The country was so possessed of H. H. as to be in every place trying to induce suffering invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the credit and good name of H. H. Many others started medical practices in its wake, and the same variety of visitors, in whom the word "Hop" or "Hops" was used to a way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All such patented remedies or cures, no matter what their style or names, and especially when the word "Hop" or "Hops" is used in their name, are imitations or counterfeits. Beware of them. Touch none of them. Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters, with a bunch or cluster of fresh hops on the label. Trust nothing else. Don't be deceived. We warn against dealing in imitations or counterfeits.

SONG.

The girls sat under the beetling cliff,
Oh, the sweet singing out of the sun?
They saw the sun's glow and pale;
Then heard the low wail of the children,
And she thought, "This is coming in to me,"
As it lay in the lap of the older girls.
Oh, the sweet singing out of the sea!

The two sat under the great rock's shade;
Oh, the sweet singing out of the sea!
They saw the sun's glow and pale;
Then heard the low wail of the children,
As he went to the camp where he had been;
Oh, the sweet singing out of the sea!

The two sat under the great rock's shade;
Oh, the sweet singing out of the sea!
They saw the sun's glow and pale;
Then heard the low wail of the children,
As he went to the camp where he had been;
Oh, the sweet singing out of the sea!

The two sat under the great rock's shade;
Oh, the sweet singing out of the sea!
They saw the sun's glow and pale;
